DEDICATION

RUTH C. HARRINGTON

Boston University,
College of Liberal Arts A.B. 1916

Needham Senior High School
1926-1963

Director of Foreign Languages
1960-1963

The dedication of this Advocate to Miss Harrington can be only a small token of appreciation for the many years she spent teaching, guiding, and encouraging us. Miss Harrington has been working at Needham High School since 1926, when she began as a teacher. In 1957 she became Head of the Language Department, and in 1960, Director of the Language Department.

Her absence will be felt profoundly by faculty and students alike. Miss Harrington has worked energetically and conscientiously to make Needham High School better for her fellow faculty members and students.

Miss Harrington not only led the Language Department with enthusiasm and efficiency, but she also guided each of us individually during our stay on the Hill. She has taken a genuine personal interest in each of us, and we shall always treasure her memory as a leader, a teacher, and a friend.

DEDICATION

LOUISE L. STEELE

Colby College A.B. 1923

Harvard Graduate School Ed. M. 1931

Needham Senior High School

The students who have worked under her patient guidance and understanding will remember Miss Steele whenever they think of Needham High School. They know that her contributions to the school go far beyond the classroom, for she always has been more than a teacher to her students.

Miss Steele has given generously of her time and of herself for the enrichment of the school. She was the first librarian in the high school library, and she organized the Library Club. As an advisor to the Advocate Staff, she has guided the production of many successful yearbooks. In addition to these activities, Miss Steele has inspired in her students her own love of literature and language. Those whom she has taught will not soon forget her.

To Miss Steele, with gratitude, we dedicate this book.

FALL

CLASS OF 1963

CLASS ADVISORS. Mr. Gerbino, Mrs. Gonson, Miss Hoehn, Mr. Osgood.

We, the class of 1963, the last class to spend four years on the hill, have many pleasant memories of our years in high school. During these four years we have learned to work together effectively while planning our various class activities. We will remember our class picnics and our class dances: "Swing into Spring," "A Knight to Remember," and "Blue Mist." We especially remember our senior activities: the Senior Breakfast, the dramatic production "Arsenic and Old Lace," our Senior Prom, and our commencement exercises.

We thank our Senior class officers: President, Peter Hazard; Vice-President, Eric Valdina; Secretary, Jo Hanson; and Treasurer, Jon Coffin; for the time and effort they have devoted to making our Senior year memorable. We also are indebted to class advisors—Mrs. Dow, Miss Hoehn, Mrs. Gonson, Mr. Osgood, Mr. Gerbino and Mr. Kline—without whom our high school years would not have been successful.

Congratulations, Jon!

Come on, boys!

And here we have . . . ?

The better end of the lunch room!

CLASS OFFICERS. Vice-President, Steven Brown; President, Richard Moore; Treasurer, Steven Merriam; Secretary, Robert Phelps.

CLASS OF 1964

CLASS ADVISORS. Mr. Walsh, Mr. Hill, Miss Richmond, Mr. Peterson.

The Class of 1964 has made much progress, both academically and athletically, during its second year on the Hill. A large number of students maintained honor roll grades, and boys and girls alike participated in all varsity and junior varsity sports. Juniors were also active in the various school clubs and extracurricular activities.

Led by Dick Moore, President; Steve Brown, Vice-President; Bob Phelps, Secretary, and Steve Merriam, Treasurer; they planned a successful Junior Prom, Impressions. The Class, with the help of its advisors, Miss Richmond, Mr. Hill, Mr. Peterson, and Mr. Walsh, also planned a class picnic and worked to raise funds for the graduation exercises of the Class of 1963. The Juniors are looking forward to their senior year, one that they hope will be even more profitable and enjoyable than this year.

Hope I make it!

CLASS OFFICERS. President, David Cook; Vice-President, David Down; Secretary, Jennifer Oakman; Treasurer, Pat Rossi.

CLASS ADVISORS. Mr. Rubin, Miss Vars, Mrs. Karlin, Mr. Samar.

During their first year on the Hill, the Class of 1965 participated in the various school activities. For class officers they elected David Cook, President; David Down, Vice-President; Pat Rossi, Treasurer; and Jennifer Oakman, Secretary. While upper classmen gaped, the enthusiastic Sophomores won the prize for the best decorated floor during Pep Week. Later, with the same enthusiasm, they planned a dance and class picnic. The class achieved a fine scholastic standing as well as athletic success. Their record for 1962-63 makes them a credit to Needham High School.

Curriculum

English

This year the English Department, under the direction of Mr. Ferrett, continued to provide the students with fine instruction in English. In addition, many members of the department gave their time and advice to some of the extra-curricular activities in the school.

Study of English included emphasis on grammar, literature, and writing. Both classical and modern ideas and techniques were dealt with in fiction, drama, and poetry. During their study of authors and style, students wrote compositions to improve their own technique and fluency. The academic year was climaxed by a long, documented paper due in the spring. As in past years, accelerated and advanced placement classes were conducted by Miss Burke for the sophomores, Mr. Allen for the juniors, and Mr. Ferrett for the seniors.

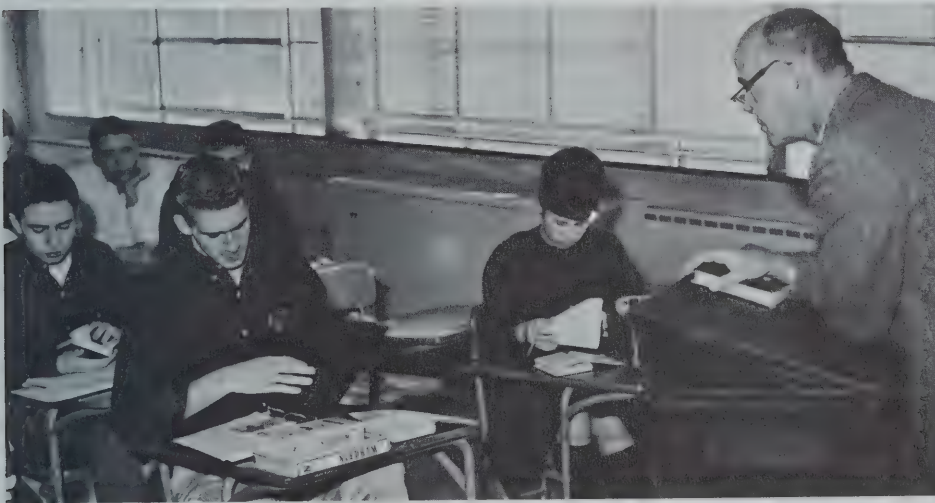

Members of the department were advisors or sponsors for many school activities. Mr. Ferrett, Miss Burke, Miss Steele, and Mr. Allen advised the Advocate staff as it put together the yearbook. Miss Duryea undertook direction of the bookstore in C-241, which provided students with books for all fields of study. She also directed the Future Teacher's Club in the absence of Mr. Holt. The Hilltopper staff was under the direction of Mr. Hamilton, who also taught journalism. The editors of the literary magazine Even A Rag Like This were all members of the English Department; the staff included interested students. Mr. Curtin taught the speech class, and Mrs. Duvall was advisor of the cheerleaders and co-advisor of the Student Council.

Mathematics

This year students saw two new faces in the Math Department, Mr. Frederick Preston and Mr. Richard Hubbard. Mr. Preston, who came to Needham High School from Belmont Hill, taught Algebra I & II and Business Math. Mr. Hubbard, formerly a teacher at Newton South High School, was appointed the new head of the Math Department. Mr. Hubbard received his Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Massachusetts and later his Master of Education degree from Harvard.

This year more than ever, the Math Department concentrated its efforts on modernizing the material and methods used at Needham High School. Mr. Hubbard led this modernization with his in-service-training program for junior and senior high school teachers. This course met fifteen times throughout the year to study the comparatively new S.M.S.G. math program. Through this program, Mr. Hubbard hoped to familiarize teachers with the S.M.S.G. course and its methods of teaching. Eventually, he and the members of the Math Department hope to improve the standard mathematics courses by gradual infiltration of S.M.S.G. principles. Evidence of this year's modernization was the introduction of a course entitled "Probability and Statistics." Next year, "Math V" will replace this course.

The new style in Roman togas

"Je ne comprends pas!"

Languages

The Language Department, under the direction of Miss Harrington, has made several changes in the teaching staff this year. Mrs. Cynthia Valentine teaches Russian and French, and Miss Margaret Hoehn replaced Mrs. Dow in the French Department. Mrs. Dow, who is on a leave of absence while studying at Harvard under a Hay Fellowship, will return to Needham High School next year.

Several changes have also been made in the French, Latin, and German programs. The advanced placement class in French IV prepared for the advanced placement examination which was given in the spring. New authors were studied in Mrs. Perry's Latin classes. German IV and Spanish IV were offered for the first time in combined classes with German III and Spanish III.

The Mardi Gras, sponsored by the French, German, and Spanish classes, was held in February. Different groups decorated the Boys' Gym colorfully, with settings representative of the different countries. Folk songs and dances were presented also.

The Junior Classical League presented its traditional Roman Banquet in May. The students, dressed in Roman togas, cheered their classmates to victory in the chariot race, ate spaghetti lying down, Roman style, and participated in several after-dinner skits.

The purpose of studying foreign languages is not only to become acquainted with the spoken and written language, but also to gain a greater understanding of the customs and character of the people of the country.

Is this right?

Social Studies

Mr. Osgood's words of wisdom

Under the direction of Mr. Henry Hicks the Social Studies Department planned a varied program of courses and activities. Additions to the teaching staff included Mr. Cullinane, Mr. Rubin, and Mr. O'Conner, an exchange teacher from England. Mr. Rubin and Mr. Cullinane taught United States History; Mr. Cullinane also conducted an experimental class in human relations in Senior Sociology. Mr. O'Conner taught Modern European History and World History.

The accelerated U.S. History class, under the instruction of Mr. Hunt, was composed of twenty-one students who made an intense study of American History. This class also did extensive outside reading to supplement their classroom discussions and took part in many debates during the year.

This year the Social Studies Department sponsored activities outside the regular class program. The senior economic classes received considerable assistance from the Department of Economics at Wellesley College. The World Affairs Study Group discussed the international situation every Friday afternoon. In April seven Needham High School students were sent to the East Coast Model United Nations at Wilmington, Delaware, to discuss world problems with students from other schools. Finally, several teachers were invited to speak to combined United States History classes on specific topics.

What's the joke?

Mr. Cullinane

Sciences

The genius shares his wisdom

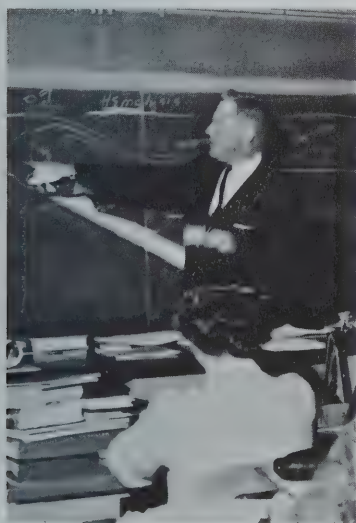

This year the Science Department offered a stimulating curriculum for the students. Teachers received National Science Foundation grants in the areas of molecular biology, organic chemistry, and physical chemistry, which enabled them to present a more enriched program than that of last year.

The APP Chemistry course has been recognized nationally by Harvard University, M.I.T., and North-eastern for its high level of achievement. The Biology classes are utilizing many major concepts from the new Biological Sciences Curriculum Study, sponsored by the National Science Foundation. Next year one Chemistry class will be employing the experimental CHEM program, also developed under the auspices of the National Science Foundation. The Accelerated Physiology course proved to be quite successful this first year.

The Science Department is emphasizing five major goals. The first is to present a high level of academic instruction to those students who are interested in science. Their next aim is to give the students a better understanding of themselves in relation to the universe and to aid students who are planning a scientific career. Lastly, the department is striving to teach a logical, scientific view of problems and to retain the students' enthusiasm for seeking knowledge.

The Science Department, under the direction of Mr. Goldberg, continued to progress in all its courses and promised a science program seldom rivaled or excelled by schools throughout the nation.

"This is simple!"

Now add a drop of . . .

The Commercial Department is capably headed by Miss Lewis. Under her direction the department prepares students for a business career. The department also provides courses in Personal Typewriting and Notehand for college-bound students. Typewriting I teaches students how to use a typewriter so that they are able to type letters, manuscripts, and other useful forms. In Typewriting II and III more advanced skills are taught. The Commercial Law and Salesmanship course presents a brief survey of salesmanship and an intensive study of law, contracts, and corporations. In Stenography I and II the basic principles of stenography, dictation, and transcription are taught. Two courses in bookkeeping and office practice are also offered. These courses are designed to develop the practical skills needed in a business office.

Industrial Arts

The Industrial Arts Department, under the direction of Mr. Pelletier, provides the students enrolled in the program with an extensive background in industrial procedures.

While working in the drawing rooms and in the shops, the student becomes familiar with both the operation and maintenance of many industrial tools and machines. Students also receive basic instruction in the fields of foundry and welding. The benefits of modern, well-equipped wood, metal, and automotive shops are also available to the Industrial Arts student.

As a result of the intensive training offered by the Industrial Arts Department, students are prepared for careers as draftsmen, engineers, machinists, mechanics, and engineering technicians.

Industrial Arts students also undertake various school projects, such as aiding in the lighting and staging of the Senior Class Play.

Practical Arts

This year the Practical Arts Department, headed by Mrs. Kinchla, offered two courses: Home Economics for Sophomores and Home and Family Living for Seniors. The girls in the Home Economics classes not only learned basic cooking and sewing, but also had a chance to put what they learned to use. One of their activities at the beginning of the year was the planning and preparation of a tea for the new teachers.

Basically a discussion and lecture course, The Home and Family Living class considered ways of establishing happy and secure homes. The course included the study of child care, narcotics, alcohol, teenage problems, and marriage. Their main project for the year was the planning and sponsoring of the Senior Breakfast, a great success.

Journalism

Look yonder!

Under the direction of Mr. Hamilton, the class in Journalism was continued for the second year. The students learned about the different types of newspaper stories and wrote various kinds of articles. They also discussed the make-up of a newspaper.

Much of the work in the class centered around the school newspaper, The Hilltopper. Each issue was criticized and evaluated, and the class members took an active part in the preparation of every issue. The journalism class at Needham, therefore, is helpful not only to members of the Hilltopper staff, but also to those who find the world of a newspaper an exciting and eventful one.

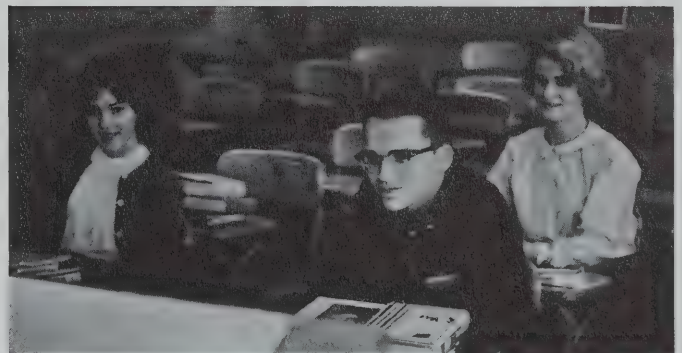

Experimental Writing

The Experimental Writing class enables the student to gain a broader background in writing than is offered in a regular English class. The objective is to help the student develop self confidence in being creative, as well as an opportunity for experimentation.

This year, under the direction of Miss Slon, the class practiced various creative forms; such as, personal essays, satires, narratives, verse, and haiku, a Japanese style of poetry. Because of the small size of the class, constructive criticisms and discussions of the students' work were possible on an informal basis. These criticisms helped the students to improve their writing, and, as a result, much of their work appeared in the School's literary publications.

Reading

Developmental Reading, under the direction of Miss Tormey, is an elective course of one semester. The increased reading burden of the student is such that both rapid reading and comprehension are of the utmost importance. The aim of this course, therefore, is to improve the student's rate of reading by the use of accelerators, or speed readers. Such skills as reading and oral comprehension, vocabulary improvement, and spelling are emphasized. To determine the rate of improvement, reading tests are taken at the beginning of the semester and compared with those taken at the completion of the course.

Guidance

Appointment time

The Guidance Department at Needham High School is dedicated to helping students. Mrs. Gordon, Mr. Affanato, Dr. Forbes, and Miss Dole have numerous conferences with each of the students in their group. Members of the Guidance Department rearrange faulty program cards, help students find after-school jobs, and compile recommendations for past graduates. One of their most difficult jobs is counselling college-bound students. Guidance Counselors help the student choose the school which is right for him and send the necessary records to the colleges selected as possibilities.

The Guidance Department also makes contacts with the employment board, arranges college conferences for the students, and administers the Kuder Preference tests, N.E.D.T. tests, National Merit tests, and the College Boards.

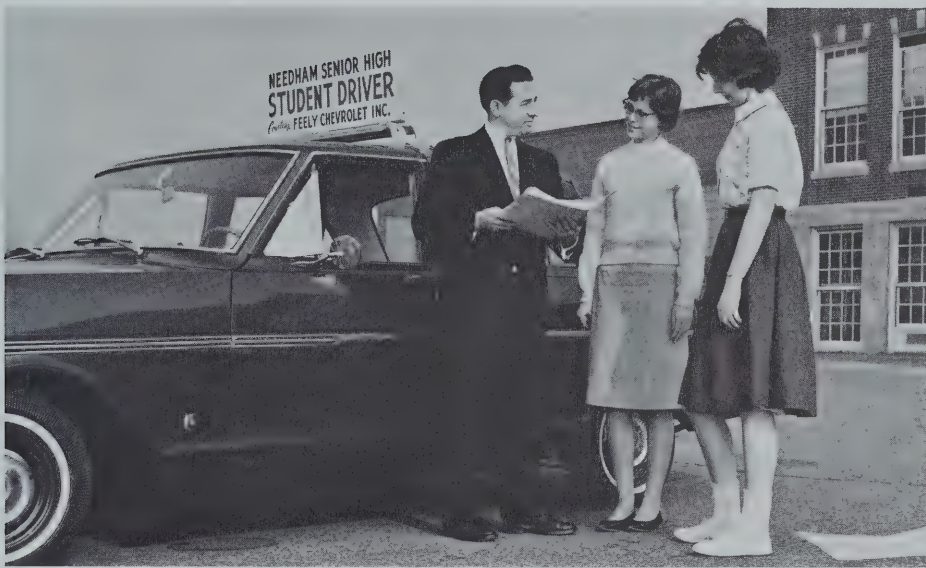

Students at Needham High School are fortunate to have such expert counselling.

Driver Education

The Driver Education program was coordinated by Mr. Gerbino this year. The instructors from the Senior High School were Mr. Muir, Mr. Cosgrove, Mr. Breunig; and from the Newman Junior High School, Mr. Peters. A new standard shift Plymouth, given to the school by Muzi-

Motors, enabled most students to have on-the-road experience.

The Driver Education course consisted of classroom instruction and on-the-road training. The aim of the course was to teach the fundamentals of and proper attitudes for safe driving.

Nervous, girls?

Art

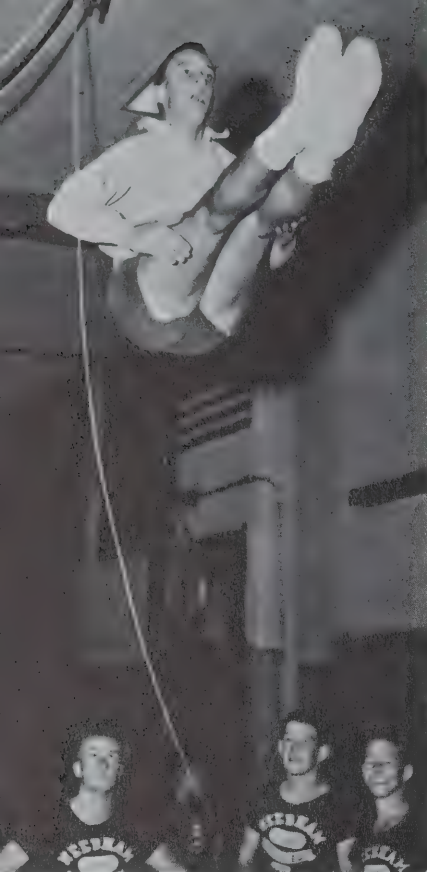

The Fine Arts Department, directed by Mr. Rourke, offered two basic courses: Major Art, Studio Art, and a course called Art and Music Appreciation. Mr. Enos and Mr. Rourke taught the art classes; Mr. Harris and Mr. Rourke taught Art and Music Appreciation.

Several types of art courses were offered, including Art I₅ and Art II₅, Studio Art 1, 2, and 3, Ceramics, and Painting. In these classes the fundamentals of art and art history were taught. Students were given the opportunity to express themselves creatively. School posters and other decorations were provided by students in these classes.

In the Art and Music Appreciation course students studied the elements of music, the instruments and their parts, various artists and their works, and the periods in which these artists lived. By listening to works of composers and by observing and studying paintings of artists, the students gained an understanding and appreciation of art and music.

Physical Education

The Physical Education program at Needham High School is an extensive one. This year, however, emphasis has been placed on physical improvement. Fitness tests were administered to both boys and girls to determine the physical capabilities of each student.

The boys' activities this year included team sports such as volleyball, soccer, baseball, and football. Also, under the direction of Mr. DeFazio, the boys practiced individual conditioning, weight lifting, and apparatus skills.

Under the direction of Mrs. Hicks and Mrs. Freno, the girls concentrated on physical improvement. Each girl received instruction on the fundamentals of sports such as soccer, field hockey, and basketball. This year's activities were chosen not only to increase physical fitness, but also to make interesting demonstrations for the girls' gym meet which was held in the spring. The girls demonstrated their skills in dance routines, apparatus work, and free exercise.

This year's activities have included the Booster drive, Sophomore orientation, the Student Council fashion show, election of class officers, and the sale of pep buttons.

The officers and the advisors, Mrs. Duvall and Mr. Schein, have guided the Student Council through a successful year, displaying the effectiveness and ability of youth government.

Band

The Needham High School Band, under the direction of Fred Harris, is an enthusiastic supporter of school activities. The eighty members of the band play at football games, pep rallies, important basketball and hockey games, and assemblies. This year the Band, sponsored by the Band Parent's Club, presented its annual Pops Concert, "The Music Man," which successfully financed their exchange trip to Oradell, New Jersey.

The officers of the Band are as follows: Richard Forbes, President; Fred Moore, Vice-President; Bobbe Morse, Secretary; and David Finnigan, Treasurer.

Sue Rae led the majorettes through a successful season of twirling at football games, rallies, concerts, and competitions. They climaxed the season by capturing the 1962 State Twirling Championship title at Framingham.

Varsity

After completing their 1962 season, the Varsity Football Team had a record of six wins and three losses. They lost only to Natick, Milton, and Wellesley. The Hingham game, a non-league game, gave Needham a Bay State League standing of five wins and three losses. The traditional Thanksgiving game with Wellesley was a particularly well-played game, although Needham lost, 14-24. Under the direction of Coach Maloney and Coach Griffin and the leadership of Captain Jon Coffin, the Needham Rockets again experienced a good year.

Junior Varsity Football

The Junior Varsity Football Team did not experience a particularly successful season this year. During the season, however, the boys, coached by Mr. Costa Samar and Mr. David Schein, developed the fundamental skills of football. As many of the varsity football players graduated this year, the success of next year's football team will depend largely on the progress made by the junior varsity players. The enthusiasm and potential shown by the team give evidence of another rewarding season next year.

Soccer

The Soccer Team, under the leadership of captain Terry Sullivan and coach Frederick Preston, was unable to duplicate its league-winning performance of last year. Due to lack of playing experience, the boys won only four of their eleven games. They were able to hold most of their opponents to less than two goals, but lacked the scoring power needed to win.

Although the team lost most of its early games, they finished the season with three consecutive victories. Since the bulk of the team was comprised of sophomores and juniors, the prospects are promising for a successful soccer team next year.

The cross-country team, captained by Bob Pine and Ed Sisson, and sparked by two Juniors, John Hodsdon and Don Humphrey, completed a fairly successful season, finishing in a tie for first place with Wellesley. John Hodsdon finished first in every dual league meet and lowered Wellesley's course record more than ten seconds. He also placed first in the Bay state league Conference Meet at Walpole, breaking the record set by John Kirkland of Needham the previous year. Don Humphrey finished second to Hodsdon in almost every meet and was only one second behind him in the Conference Meet. In the State Meet Humphrey placed sixth and Hodsdon placed seventh. The turn-out for this year's team was so small that Coach West was unable to have a J.V. team. Unless the turn-out is larger next year, the outlook for the cross-country team is not optimistic.

Having won only two games and having lost four, the Girls' Field Hockey team did not have an impressive season. The team was enthusiastic, however, and good sportsmanship was evident in every game. Captained by Martha Gaudet, the team beat Framingham and Watertown. The junior varsity won five games and lost only three. Many girls gained experience for next year's varsity team. The season ended with a banquet at Marconi's, a pleasant memory for all team members.

VARSITY

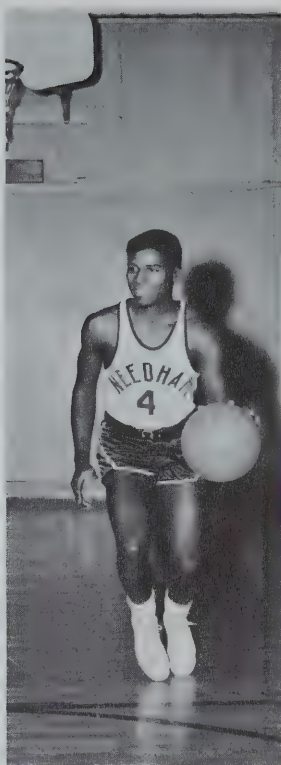

The Varsity Basketball Team had a fine season, although only three returning lettermen—Jeff Rowe, Bob Harrington, and Captain Dick Thompson—were members of the squad. Although Coach Parmigiane had to contend with injuries, the team won third place in the highly competitive Bay State League. Perhaps the most thrilling game of the season was the triple overtime game which Needham played at Framingham and lost, 82-81.

VARSITY HOCKEY

During the winter of 1962-63, the Needham High School Hockey Team experienced a rewarding season. Coached by John Chambers and with the help of the two returning lettermen, Captain John Wood and Bill Brown, the team improved as the season progressed. At the end of the season the Rockets claimed third place: the result of a hard fought and well played season. The seniors on the team included: Bob Brackett, Jeff Bidle, Sandy Birkett, John Ridill, Dan Doherty, Bob Whorf, and Joe Haskett. The underclassmen on the team gained valuable experience for next year's season.

Although the Varsity Wrestling Team had only four returning lettermen this year, it continued to display the excellent wrestling that brought it the state championship last year. Coach Mario DeFazio said that the team was exceptionally strong this year because it was well-balanced, with outstanding wrestlers in all eleven weight classes. Seniors on the team included Bob Papetti, Paul DiVecchio, Mike Tossi, Bob Stansfield, Dave Perrin, Dick Carter, and Kent Pandolf. The Juniors on the team were Dave Wade, Cliff Holbrook, Bruce Rogers, and Mike Miller. Peter DeFazio was the only Sophomore to wrestle with the varsity team.

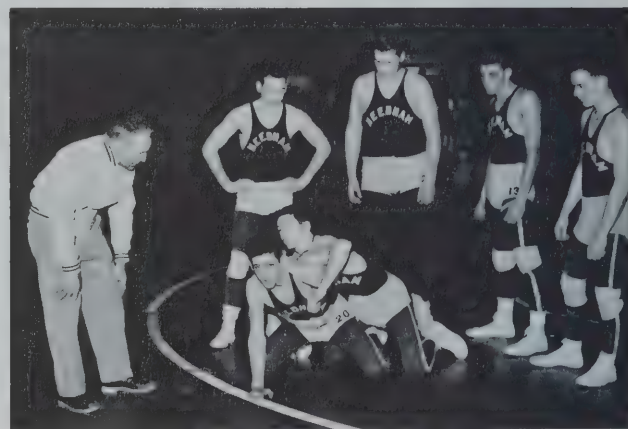

Encouraged by the ability of the Sophomore and Junior wrestlers, Mr. DeFazio believes that we can expect another fine showing next year.

The girls' basketball team finished with a very successful record again this year. They had 6 wins and 1 loss and displayed sportsmanship and determination throughout the season.

This year the rules of girls' basketball were changed, so that it became more similar in form to boys' basketball. When the practices started after Christmas vacation, these changes in rules seemed to pose a problem; but under the expert supervision of Mrs. Freno, the girls learned quickly.

Leading the team this year was Kathy Mullen whose skillful playing and high scoring won many a game for the Varsity. Also helping the Varsity was the skill and spirit of the girls who played on last year's undefeated Junior Varsity team.

Unfortunately the 1963 Junior Varsity could not live up to last year's record, but the players did acquire useful experience which will be an asset to future teams.

Competition

The Gymnastics Team, under the direction of Coach Richard Aronsen and Captain Bob Kasten, had a very successful season this year, only their second year in competition. Among the many outstanding performers on the team were junior Steve Brown, who finished the season with 112 points, and senior Bob Kasten, who finished with 111 points. The team had several talented underclassmen: Jack Bradbury, Tom Fontecchio, and Al Henrichon. With a majority of juniors and sophomores on the team, Coach Aronsen looks forward to a strong and successful gymnastics team in the seasons to come. By winning the last meet of the season with Wellesley, the team qualified for the State Tournament which was held at Framingham in March.

CHORALEERS

The Choraleers, a group of thirty-five girls from the three classes, is under the expert direction of Mr. Henry Heald. Because the members are selected on the basis of their musical ability and interest, the group is able to present many difficult vocal arrangements. The girls meet during organization period on Tuesdays to rehearse for the programs which they present both in and out of School. This year the group performed in several School assemblies and presented a program for the Christmas meeting of the Teachers' Club. The interest and cooperation shown by the members has kept the Choraleers a top singing group again this year.

The Boys' Glee Club had a new director this year, Mr. Henry Heald. The club, though smaller than it has been in the past, continued to provide rich harmony at assemblies, Teachers' Club meetings, and other occasions. Among the songs which delighted the Glee Club's audiences were such favorites as "Aura Lee," "Mood Indigo," "The Whiffenpoof Song," and "There is Nothing like a Dame." The continued excellence of the group was confirmed by the selection of six of its members to sing with the Southeastern District Chorus in January. The six boys were: Dick Hutchins, Fred Moore, Ronald Weaver, Dick Theokas, Dave Perrin, and Ray Crowell.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

Practicing for an assembly

Meeting every Monday organization period in the auditorium, the Girls' Glee Club has become a polished, well-trained choral group. Although the group is comparatively small, they are extremely effective; for patiently and persistently Mr. Heald, the Glee Club director, has drilled the girls in harmony, tone quality, and even posture. The enthusiastic and hard-working girls have shown Mr. Heald's efforts were not lost as evidenced by several successful concerts presented at assemblies. Jayne Oliver, a Junior, ably played the accompaniment.

Resuming the tradition of a few years ago, the senior class presented a comedy rather than a serious play this year. Kesselring's Arsenic and Old Lace, under the outstanding direction of Mrs. Stanley R. Tippet, became the most successful class play to be presented in recent years. The audience will long remember Aunt Abby Brewster, portrayed by Martha Tracy, and Aunt Martha, played by Martha Ramsey, the delightful menaces who practice charity by poisoning elderly gentlemen. Their nephew Mortimer, played by Dick Forbes, becomes understandably perturbed upon discovering his aunts' occupation and is further harassed by the advent of his villainous brother, Jonathan, portrayed by Eric Valdina. At various intervals in the play, the cry "charge!" could be heard as Mortimer's other brother Teddy, played by Doug MacDonald, charged up "San Juan Hill" in his belief that he was Teddy Roosevelt. Meanwhile Mortimer's long-suffering fiancée, Elaine, played by Kathi Barry, endured much in her involvement with the Brewster family. The performance of the minor characters as well as that of the leads provided the audience of both nights with unforgettable entertainment and suspense, including Aunt Abby's struggle with last minute laryngitis.

The play will be even more memorable to the cast for all the "behind-the-scene" events—for Mr. and Mrs. Tippet's guidance and assistance, for week-end rehearsals, for the efforts of Nancy Bassler and Sue Holland, and, of course, for those cast parties.

The Library Club is an invaluable volunteer staff for the high school library. Under the direction of Mrs. Bates and Mrs. Wagner, they handle the desk routines, shelve the books, and assist in much of the work which goes on behind the scenes, such as labelling overnight reserves and checking in magazines. The Display Group maintains a constantly changing set of

HILLTOPPER

Although the Hilltopper has been in existence for only five years, it is already a tradition in the high school. Mr. Hamilton, the faculty advisor of the paper, believes that the staff has succeeded in presenting to the student body a "fairly professional synopsis of significant school activities."

One of the purposes of the Hilltopper is to give the students an opportunity to work in journalism. All the areas of newspaper work are practised: business, art, advertising, make-up and layout, and writing. Another of the paper's functions is to provide a medium for the expression of student opinion.

GIRLS' LEADERS CLUB

This year the Girls' Leaders Club met in two groups under the direction of Mrs. Hicks and Mrs. Freno every Monday organization period. The purpose of the club was to develop the skills of leadership so that the girls would be able to take over the gym classes in case of the teacher's absence. The girls learned the rules and regulations of many of the girls' sports and the rules of many games which may be used by those who work on playgrounds or who are interested in pursuing a career in physical education. The girls also demonstrated and spotted the apparatus in gym classes. The captain for this year was Judy Purdum and the sergeant was Valerie Burkhardt.

BOYS' LEADERS CLUB

Up and over!

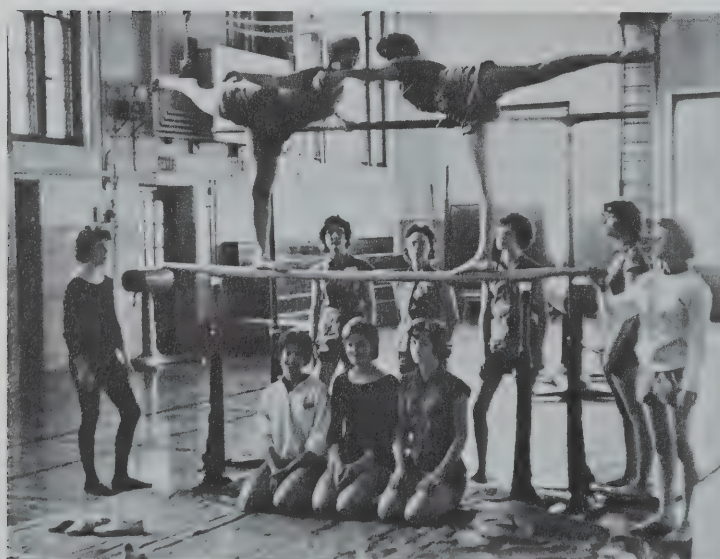

The Boys' Leaders Club again showed their ability by assisting the gym instructors during gym classes. The club was comprised mainly of Juniors and Seniors, with some Sophomore members. The boys were chosen for qualities of leadership. Under the direction of Mr. DeFazio and Mr. Maloney the boys met during Tuesday's organization period. During these meetings the boys received extensive instruction in the various areas covered in physical education classes. They learned the fundamentals of many sports, various drills, apparatus techniques, and the value of cooperation: a quality necessary to assist the physical education instructors.

GIRLS' APPARATUS CLUB

Demonstration on the parallel bars

Because of the large number of girls interested in Girls' Apparatus Club this year, the Club met each period on Friday. The girls participated during their free periods and organization period. Designed to give girls who are interested in gymnastics more time to learn and perfect new skills, the club was open not only to the advanced students but also to beginners. Under the direction of Mrs. Hicks the girls were able to work at their own speed and receive individual attention when needed. After several months of practice certain girls were chosen for an exhibition team because of their excellence in performing individual and group skills.

BOYS' APPARATUS CLUB

Mr. DeFazio and Mr. Maloney again opened the Boys' Gymnastic Club to all boys interested in recreation and advancement on the school's gymnastic equipment. This year forty-five boys from the three classes took part. The only requirement for entering the club was a qualifying test which consisted of basic exercises on the ropes, in tumbling, and on the rings.

Aside from being an excellent opportunity for those boys who merely enjoyed working-out on the equipment, the Gymnastic Club proved to be a valuable training ground for potential members of the Gymnastic Team. Also, many Team members belonged to the Club, improving their own routines and helping others to refine their skills.

SKI CLUB

Arrival at Mt. Snow

This year's Ski Club, under the guidance of Mr. Preston and under the leadership of president Bob Loring, promised to be the most active Ski Club yet on the Hill. The Club hoped to make a total of three day trips and one two day, overnight trip. Proposed destinations were Mt. Sunapee in New Hampshire, Big Bromley, and Mt. Snow in Vermont.

The Ski Club made its first trip to Mt. Snow on the fifth of January. Forty students went to Mt. Snow where good skiing and fun were had by all, experts and "shuss-bombers" alike.

AMATEUR RADIO CLUB

The Amateur Radio Club was established in the Spring of last year by the present Senior club members. The Club attempts to stimulate the members' interest in theory and practice of amateur radio operation, and most of the members have either obtained their Federal Communications Commission or are working for them. The members are afforded every opportunity to obtain actual on-the-air experience. Transmitting and receiving equipment is provided and is available to the members before and after school or during any of their study periods. Numerous field trips to portable locations have been undertaken, and the members of the club have placed highly in several international contests.

The Audio - Visual Club, under the supervision of Mr. Ashley Holt, is in charge of all films, projectors, and similar equipment in the school. The club members set up films and operate the projectors during classes. In addition to running the equipment, the club checks with teachers in March and orders the films which are needed for the following year. The club's officers, President, Harry Baker, and Vice Presidents Leigh Macquerie and Larry Osborne, are in charge of providing audio-visual equipment to supplement regular class instruction.

Some future teachers

The Future Teachers of America, a club consisting of those students interested in teaching as a career, met every second and fourth Wednesday under the direction of Miss Duryea. The elected officers were President, Martha Anderson; Vice-President, Joy Hanson; Secretary, Kris Harper; Treasurer, Dave Nichols; Historian, Sandi Yueh. The Club's activities included a program on state colleges and a talk by Mr. O'Connor, the exchange teacher from England.

PUBLIC AFFAIRS STUDY GROUP

The Public Affairs Study Group, the successor of the Asian Club, was formed early in the year by a group of interested students. A constitution for the group was written and adopted. Under the supervision of Mr. Hicks the members met weekly to discuss topics of interest, ranging from corruption in Massachusetts' government to the Berlin and Cuban problems. In December plans were formulated to send six delegates representing Austria to the East Coast Model United Nations to be held in April at Wilmington, Delaware. After a two day test in January on the United Nations and Austria, Anthony Kroch, Jenny Green, Art Arnold, Phil Gray, Peter Weller, and Alan MacKay were selected to be the delegates with Larry Green as an alternate. All of the activities during the year were both profitable and enjoyable for the members.

SPANISH CLUB

Under the guidance of Miss Kenney the Spanish Club enjoyed its second successful year. The members, consisting solely of students studying Spanish, met on Tuesday or Thursday afternoons. The Club took several field trips as part of its entertainment. The students went by bus into Cambridge to the Peabody Museum to see Mayan ruins. Later the same day they ate at the Café Pamplóna. The Club assumed responsibility for the Spanish part of the highly successful Mardi Gras. The officers were: Robert Whorf, President; Bobbe Morse, Vice-President; Mary Brauer, Secretary; Diane Canaris, Treasurer.

FRENCH CLUB

Under the direction of Mr. Maletz and Miss Richmond the French Club met every other week. The purpose of the Club is to promote interest among the students in French culture and to further their skills in oral French. One meeting each month is devoted to conversational French, while the other meeting has some planned activity. The Club sponsored trips to enjoy a French pantomimist, to see two French plays, and to visit a French restaurant. The members saw Mr. Maletz's slides of France and heard speakers such as Jacques Foucry compare his native France to America. The Club's officers are: President, Hilary Abbott; Vice-President, Nancy Bassler; Secretary, Jacques Foucry; Treasurer, Lois Dashef; Head of Refreshments, Steve Richardson.

ORCHESTRA

The Needham High School Orchestra, under the capable direction of Mr. John Nardi, is a growing organization in the high school. The orchestra, which is composed of students from all three classes, meets every Friday during organization period. During the five years since the orchestra was formed, it has participated in many school assemblies and exchange concerts. An exchange concert is planned for this year also. The orchestra plays a wide selection of pieces from classical to modern music and is open to any student who plays a musical instrument.

The Caduceus Club has become one of the more successful clubs in the school this year. Under the direction of Miss Claire Callan and Mrs. Frances Haines the club is open to all students who have an interest in any medical or health career. The eighty members are led by the following officers: President, Judy Bratt; Vice-President, Betsy Webb; Recording Secretary, Shirley Swanson; Corresponding Secretary, Caroline Briggs; Treasurer, Laurie Thompson.

The girls assist Mrs. Haines with general office work in the nursing office during their study periods. Also, they assist the nurses at the various immunization clinics in the high school and at the Board of Health. Thirty-seven of its more ambitious girls do volunteer work at the Boston Veterans Administration Hospital twice a month.

The Slavic Club was organized this year to promote interest in Russian and other Slavic cultures. The club was open to students studying Russian and students desiring to learn more about the political and cultural aspects of the Soviet Union and its satellites. The following officers were elected: President, Allan Hartwell; Vice-President, Geoff Booth; Secretary, Jane Greeley; Treasurer, Richard Wilson. The club advisor is Mrs. Valentine, the first full-time Russian teacher to be employed in the Needham schools. Under her direction the club made plans for the Mardi Gras and future club activities.

The Indoor Track Team, coached by Mr. Herlihy, experienced a disappointing and discouraging season this year. The team lost all of its dual meets and for the first time in many years was unable to have anyone place in the B.A.A. and State Meets. In the past Needham has been known as a track power among the secondary schools of Massachusetts. The students' lack of enthusiasm and unwillingness to participate in track, however, resulted in a poor season. Mr. Herlihy believes that, if a larger number of boys come out for track next year, they can improve the record considerably.

EVEN A RAG LIKE THIS

The Rag, Needham High School's literary book, is unique among student publications. It contains the quality writing from all student groups in the school, including essays, short stories, poetry, critical essays and reviews, and a few full length documented papers. The Rag not only affords enjoyable reading but also aids the student in writing English papers, as it gives examples of different kinds of essays assigned in English classes.

The faculty editors of the Rag were Mr. Ferrett, Mr. Allen, Miss Burke, and Miss Wiegand. Several members of the junior and senior classes assisted them.

Miss Duryea and the bookstore staff

BOOKSTORE

The Bookstore, under the direction of Miss Duryea, is an asset to Needham High School. Miss Duryea orders paperback texts for teachers and students who wish to increase their personal libraries or supplement their class texts. Orders are sent in twice a week, Monday or Tuesday and Friday; and books are delivered within a week after ordering. The Bookstore is especially helpful to students in obtaining information for term papers.

The Swing Band
jazzes it up

SWING BAND

The Swing Band is a selected group of young musicians chosen from the high school band for their superior musicianship. The Swing Band rehearses every Wednesday evening, preparing for professional engagements which include high school dances and dancing school cotillions. The band is composed of seventeen pieces, seven of which are saxophones, thus giving the Swing Band a "big band" sound. The Swing Band has a repertoire of over one hundred and fifty pieces, including waltzes, rhumbas, cha-chas, and twists. For talented musicians, the Swing Band offers a valuable experience in the field of jazz.

MODERN DANCE

The Modern Dance group was again formed under the direction of Mrs. Hicks. The girls found expression in motion in both the past and contemporary modes. They created patterns and movements to modern jazz, classical or semi-classical music, popular or show music, and occasionally to only a drum beat. By belonging to and working in the group, the members learned grace and poise from each other's and their leader's grace.

The Junior Classical League has a membership this year of one hundred and twenty five members. In the initiation ceremony at the beginning of the year, eighty six new members were brought into the group. Each month the League has a meeting during which business is discussed and entertainment about Roman life is presented. Annually a large number of members attend the meeting of the State Federation of Junior Classical Leagues. The highlight of the year is the Roman Banquet; every member dresses in Roman costumes and enjoys a typically Roman meal. The officers of the year were elected according to Roman nomenclature: Consuls, Steve Merriam and Pat Bogar; Scriba, Christine Gere; Quaestor, Susan Kelly; and Lictor Primus, Lee Morgan. Each class in the high school is represented in the Executive Council.

ART CLUB

Those students who cannot fit art into their schedules meet in the art room during any free organization period. The Art Club is for students who are working on an art portfolio and for those who merely enjoy working in the arts and crafts. Mr. Enos, the art instructor, gives the students problems to solve and a variety of media with which to solve the problem. The students find the Art Club an enjoyable and profitable change from the regular school curriculum.

The modern language classes, under the direction of Miss Harrington, again this year presented a Mardi Gras. Each of the four modern language groups at Needham High School presented skits, and French, German, Russian, and Spanish songs and dances. Prizes were awarded for the best costumes in each language group.

Miss Hoehn, Miss Richmond, and Mr. Maletz were in charge of the French portion of the festivities. Mr. Heinrich and Mr. Peterson were in charge of the German; Mrs. Valentine, the Russian; and Miss Kenney and Mr. Gerbino, the Spanish.

In Memoriam

As the Class of 1963 completes its final year on the Hill, we pause to remember Muriel H. Walker, a fellow classmate who has left us forever. We will always remember Muriel's ready smile, her vibrant personality, and her devotion to both her school and her friends. There will always be a place among the memories of our class for our departed friend.

"Quality builds confidence"

The William Carter Company, nationally-known manufacturer of knit underwear and sleepwear for infants, children, men and women, operates seven modern plants. Pictured above is the Company's Home Office in Needham Heights, Mass. The manufacturing plants are located in Springfield, Mass.; Barnesville, Thomaston and Forsyth, Georgia; and Senatobia, Mississippi. A new mill is now under construction in Centreville, Mississippi and production will start in 1963. From its modest beginning in 1865, the firm still steadfastly adheres to the high ideals of its founder, William Carter, who said, "Quality builds confidence, quality endures, quality pays."
